Dear Friend: Most very young children put all sorts of things in their mouths as a means of exploring the world around them. This child, however, may have a deficiency in his diet. I hope the mother will see this column and take him to a physician.

Dear Ann Landers: Our beautiful daughter is seriously considering throwing herself away on a fellow who is from the wrong side of the tracks. Her father and I are beside ourselves.

We brought up this girl with every advantage. She has had fine schooling, a European tour, and lovely clothes. The boy works in an office during the day and goes to school at night. It will take him at least six more years to be a lawyer. I don't believe he has a suit of clothes to his name. His parents are very ordinary people and can do nothing for him.

We've tried to talk some sense into her head but we can't seem to get through to her. Please tell this stupid girl that the apple doesn't fall from the tree. Thank you. —GETTING NOWHERE

Dear Nowhere: Your daughter isn't going with an apple—she's going with a young man. And he sounds like a pretty solid one to me.

You should be pleased and proud of your daughter for
